

My dog wants to eat my food, but they're mine!

her modifies a noun

hers
used alone

Your dad is going to get you a car. It will finally be yours!

their
modifies a noun

theirs
used alone

July 5

Plural Possessive Pronouns

used alone:
mine

used as an adjective: my

used alone:
ours

used as an adjective: our

used alone:
theirs

used as an adjective:
their

His mom took him to school.
That marker is hers!

July 6

singular nouns
just one
apostrophe before the s

regular plural nouns
at least two
apostrophe before the s

irregular plural nouns
at least two apostrophe before the s dresser's card's book's friend's

July 7

Possessives

regular plural nouns
at least two apostrophe after the s

irregular plural nouns
at least two apostrophe before the s student's crayon's

Lucy's
Papa Gino's

July 8

FACTS

It was grandma's birthday.
All I wanted was a cup of sugar.
I had a terrible sneezing cold.

OPINIONS

This big bad wolf thing is all wrong.
No one thinks cheeseburgers are cute.
Pigs are not that smart.

July 13

Possessives

Contractions

your its their it's they're you're

July 15

contraction

possessive combines you and they're it's your their shows own

July 17

Zeeel Is everyone still angry at me?

Iguana, you will never believe what I saw yesterday.

So that's why you had sticks in your ears!

What's a mosquito compared to a you? Asked the Iguana.

voice thought, Iguana must be happy at me about something.

July 18

I feel sorry for those boys.

How come that man can't see? he asked.

Lost stop on Market Street! the bus driver shouted.

That's a mighty fine perfume you're wearing today, ma'am.

Don't you see that big tree drinking through a straw?

July 19

What were you doing at the back of his shop in the first place?

You'll have to show him that you are good people.

He's such a strange old man. He never smiles at anyone.

Miss Eula, we didn't throw those eggs!

Miss Eula assured them, "If you say you didn't do it, then I believe you."

July 21

CONTRACTIONS OR POSSESSIVES?

Don't get confused with these words! Contractions use an apostrophe when combining two words. Possessive pronouns show ownership. Place the planets on the correct orbits to classify the words.

CONTRACTIONS

POSSESSIVES

shows ownership
it's its you're your they're their

POSSESSIVE NOUNS

regular plural nouns
at least two
apostrophe after the s

regular plural nouns
at least two
apostrophe after the s

irregular plural nouns
at least two
apostrophe before the s

POSSESSIVE NOUNS

Possessive nouns show ownership or possession. An apostrophe is added to the noun, sometimes with an "s", to show possession. Click and drag the possessives on the noodles to the correct hot dog.

singular nouns
just one
apostrophe before the s

regular plural nouns
at least two
apostrophe after the s

irregular plural nouns
at least two apostrophe before the s student's men's crayon's

pieces'
friends'
Papa Gino's
books'
bags' children's people's Lucy's women's