

Table of Contents

Introduction to Mentor Sentences	p. 3-5
Homework	p. 6
Book List	p. 7
The Keeping Quilt commas in a series	p. 8-13
My Rotten Redheaded Older Brother subjects and predicates, commas in a series	p. 14-20
When Lightning Comes in a Jar vivid verbs	p. 21-27
Thunder Cake figurative language/imagery	p. 28-33
The Junkyard Wonders dialogue	p. 34-39
Chicken Sunday dialogue	p. 40-45
Pink and Say adjectives	p. 46-51

Richard gave me one of his extra-rotten, weasel-eyed, greeny-toothed grins.

~My Rotten Redheaded

Older Brother

INTERACTIVE

ACTIVITIES

Richard gave me one of his extra-rotten, weasel-eyed, greeny-toothed grins.
~My Rotten Redheaded Older Brother

Richard gave me one of his extra-rotten, weasel-eyed, greeny-toothed grins.
~My Rotten Redheaded Older Brother

Richard gave me one of his extra-rotten, weasel-eyed, greeny-toothed grins.
~My Rotten Redheaded Older Brother

Richard gave me one of his extra-rotten, weasel-eyed, greeny-toothed grins.
~My Rotten Redheaded Older Brother

Richard gave me one of his extra-rotten, weasel-eyed, greeny-toothed grins.
~My Rotten Redheaded Older Brother

Patricia Polacco
Mentor
Sentences
Mini-Unit

Grades
3-5

Name: Answer Key Date: My Rotten Redheaded Older Brother

Invitation to Edit

Richard gave me one of his extra-rotten weasel-eyed greeny-toothed grins.

1. Circle the subjects and predicates correctly:
Richard gave me one of his extra-rotten weasel-eyed greeny-toothed grins.

Add commas to the following sentences where they belong:

2. Richard had a weasel-eyed greeny-toothed grin and glasses.

3. He could run the fastest, the highest, and throw the farthest.

4. They went to the carnival, ate hotdogs, and rode the merry-go-round.

In the following sentence, underline the subjects and predicates.

5. We both picked berries for most of the afternoon.

6. Then he laughed at my older brother laugh.

7. We must have been in a foul mood, arousel.

8. You gave us all a fright.

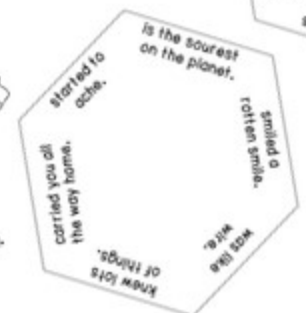

QUIZZES

WITH

ANSWER

KEYS

SUBJECTS AND PREDICATES
A sentence (there will always be a subject and a predicate) is made up of two parts: the subject and the predicate. The subject is who or what the sentence is about. The predicate is what the subject is doing. Turn the circle the simple subjects and underline the predicates.

Monday – possibilities of things to notice
*commas in a series/list hyphens – adjectives describing adjectives
descriptive – adjectives possessive pronoun – his
Richard – proper noun
one – homophone (won) declarative

Tuesday – label
Richard – proper noun
gave – verb (past tense)
me – pronoun
one – noun
of – preposition
his – possessive pronoun
extra-rotten weasel-eyed greeny-toothed grins – phrase

Richard gave me one of his extra-rotten weasel-eyed greeny-toothed grins.
complete subject complete predicate simple subject simple predicate

Wednesday
Richard showed me one of his extra-rotten weasel-eyed greeny-toothed grins.
(changed adjectives, replaced gave with shot)

Thursday – possibility of imitation sentence
Snoopy ate one of his extra-large, super-crunchy, bacon-flavored bones.

SEVEN

DETAILED

LESSONS